We fully embrace the vision stated in the Church of England's Vision for Education 'Deeply Christian Serving the Common Good' published in July 2016 of educating the whole person. Our pupils, staff and families work together as a team, with wisdom supporting each other through our learning. We have hope in our challenges and in our successes.

We recognise the dignity and ultimate worth of each person, created in the image of God, further shaped by the person, teaching and example of Jesus. We look to the future with joy.

Next Review: Summer 2026

At Nutfield Church (C of E) Primary School we aim to provide a safe, caring and friendly environment for all our pupils to allow them to learn effectively, improve their life chances and help them maximise their potential.

This policy focuses on pupils and is part of our whole school development and improvement plan. This policy is to be read in conjunction with our SEN and Inclusion, Complaints, Equality, Behaviour, Whistle Blowing and Staff Conduct policies and documents.

We expect pupils to feel safe in school and that they understand the issues relating to safety, such as bullying and that they feel confident to seek support from school should they feel unsafe.

This policy was formulated in consultation with the whole school community with input from members of staff, Governors, Parents and Carers, children, and Wrap Around (The Ark) and is available on our school website and shared with all staff.

Pupils contribute to the development of the policy through Equality Ambassadors, Pupil Parliament and the Children's Anti-Bullying Team, as well as in during class discussions and whole school events, which take place throughout the year and are linked to our six whole-school values.

Parents/Carers are encouraged to contribute by: taking part in written consultations and, Parent and Carer meetings/forums. Definition of Bullying

'Behaviour by an individual or group usually repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally'. Safe to Learn: embedding anti bullying work in schools (2007)

How does bullying differ from teasing/falling out between friends or other types of aggressive behaviour?

- There is a deliberate intention to hurt or humiliate.

- There is a power imbalance that makes it hard for the victim to defend themselves.
- It is usually persistent.

Occasionally, an incident may be deemed to be bullying even if the behaviour has not been repeated or persistent – if it fulfils all other descriptions of bullying. This possibility should be considered, particularly in cases of sexual, sexist, racist, homophobic or transgender bullying and when children with disabilities are involved. If the victim might be in danger then intervention is urgently required.

At Nutfield Church, we recognise there are different types of Bullying:

Physical bullying includes

- Hitting
- Kicking
- Tripping
- Pinching and pushing
- Damaging property

Verbal bullying may happen when a person or group are seen to be different in some way and includes:

- Name-calling,
- Insults
- Teasing
- Intimidation
- Verbal abuse,
- Homophobic, transgender or racist remarks (including a focus on religious or cultural difference), comments about a special educational need or disability.

Relational bullying can also be carried out behind a person's back. It includes:

- Lying and spreading rumours
- Negative facial or physical gestures, menacing or unkind looks
- Playing nasty jokes to embarrass and humiliate
- Mimicking unkindly
- Encouraging others to socially exclude someone
- Damaging someone's social reputation or social acceptance
- Excluding people from groups

Cyber bullying is the use of information and communication technology, particularly mobile phones and the internet, deliberately to upset someone else. It includes:

- Abusive or hurtful texts emails or posts, images or videos
- Deliberately excluding others online
- Saying or spreading nasty gossip or rumours online
- Imitating others online or using their log-in
- Damaging someone's social reputation or social acceptance
- Excluding people from groups

At risk groups

Some characteristics make it statistically more likely that an individual could experience bullying. This includes if a child:

- Has Special Educational Needs
- Has a disability

- Has Looked After Child status
- Comes from a minority racial, ethnic or religious group or has a 'non traditional family structure'
- Identifies as LGBTQ+
- Is perceived as culturally 'different'
- Is newly-arrived

Our Peace Makers' Charter states 'we are all different and we like it that way'. This has become a central tenant of the school.

Bullying around racism, religion and culture

A person whose race, religion or culture, is different to the majority, may be adversely affected by negative attitudes or perceptions of difference.

Homophobic bullying

Homophobic bullying occurs when bullying is motivated by a prejudice against lesbian, gay or bisexual people.

Bullying involving Children with Special Educational Needs (SEN) and Disabilities

Children with SEN and disabilities may be adversely affected by negative attitudes to disability and perceptions of difference. They may find it more difficult to resist bullies, not understand that what is happening is bullying and have difficulties telling people about bullying.

Sexist, Sexual and Transphobic bullying

Sexist bullying is based on sexist attitudes that when expressed demean, intimidate or harm another person because of their sex or gender. Sexual bullying is bullying behaviour that has a specific sexual dimension and may involve suggestive sexual comments. Transphobic bullying stems from a hatred or fear of people who are 'transgender', which describes people whose sense of their gender or gender identity is seen as being different to typical gender norms.

Although bullying can occur between individuals it can often take place in the presence (virtually or physically) of others who become the 'bystanders' or 'accessories'.

There is no hierarchy of bullying – all forms should be taken equally seriously and dealt with appropriately.

Bullying can take place between:

- children
- children and staff
- staff
- individuals or groups

Reporting and Responding to Bullying

Point of contact: Class teacher or Headteacher.

Our school has a clear and well publicised system to report bullying for the whole school community (including staff, parents/carers and, children). This includes those who are the victims of bullying or have witnessed bullying behaviour (bystanders).

Research has clearly demonstrated that bystanders play a significant role in bullying. Bystanders provide a crucial perspective, which can help 'unravel' a situation. Bystanders can help by:

- Telling the person being bullied that you don't like the bullying and asking them if you can do anything (tell someone or go with them to tell someone)
- Telling the pupils doing the bullying that you don't like it and to stop doing it (but only if this feels safe to do)
- Choosing not to watch and walking away (taking away the audience)
- Spending time with the person being bullied
- 'Scooping up' the pupil by taking them by the arm and saying something like 'Come on, we need you for our game' (again, only if it feels safe to do so)
- Saying 'No, we don't like that' is very effective in the Early Years and Key Stage 1. Pupils are taught to put out their hand to sign 'stop' and act and speak assertively together
- To witness and validate the bullied pupil's experience after the event will reassure them that they were supported
- Opportunities to contribute to the Anti-Bullying culture of a school through creating posters, stories or films
- Exploring supportive 'standing by' behaviours in circle time or PHSE sessions

The school response to an incident of bullying may vary according to the type and severity of the incident. We regularly discuss with pupils the actions they could take if they felt they or someone else was being bullied. The following actions have been agreed by all and displayed throughout the building. Awareness of Cyber-bullying is taught through our Science, Computing, Design and Technology strand of our school curriculum and can also be reported in school using any of the systems outlined below.

If you see someone being bullied you could:-

- Remind the pupils involved of the school rules
- Find a friend and talk to them about what is happening and what you should do
- Tell an adult – you could tell someone who works in the school who would do something about it or an adult in your family
- Write a note and place this in the Talktime box

If you are being bullied you could:-

- Tell an adult – you could tell someone who works in the school who would do something about it or an adult in your family
- Find a friend and ask them to help you.
- Remind the pupils involved of the school rules
- Write a note for the Talktime box

If your child is being bullied you could:-

- Talk to your child and record what they say
- inform the class teacher
- Arrange an appointment to see the class teacher
- Maintain a regular time to see the class teacher until the matter is resolved

Communication

The Headteacher communicates incidents of bullying in the termly Headteacher's report and encourages parents and carers to talk to class Teachers regarding any bullying incidents. A 'Parent/Carer Meeting Form' will be completed by the Class Teacher and submitted to the SLT Team for review.

The Headteacher and other members of the Anti-Bullying team, maintain an ongoing update of policy which is particularly affected by changing legislation, Parent and Carer views and comments. This year, a particular focus will be on developing dialogue with Parents, Carers and the wider school community through expanding the Anti-Bullying team. We welcome Parents' and Carers' comments and feedback at all times regarding the behaviour and welfare of our pupils.

Complaints

Any staff member, parent or carer who feels that an incident has not been dealt with to their satisfaction is encouraged at all times to discuss this with senior leaders and Governors. Should their complaint not be addressed they are directed to follow the procedures set out in the Complaints Policy. The school will deal promptly with complaints in line with the complaints procedure.

Using a Restorative Approach

This school promotes responsible behaviour and deals effectively and fairly with all pupils.

It involves expectations, agreed and understood by all, and consists of four distinct parts:-

- i) A concise list of rules for all pupils to follow
- ii) A systematic approach to positive recognition of good behaviour
- iii) A graded list of the consequences of failing to keep the rules.
- iv) A plan that seeks forgiveness and restoration

The five themes of the restorative approach will be followed:-

Theme 1 & 2 – What's happened/what is the matter? What were you thinking/feeling? (Each child)

Theme 3 – Anything to add? Who has been affected?

Theme 4 – What do you need so things can be put right/to move on?

Theme 5 – What can you do to stop this from happening again?

Repeated incidents action plan

In the highly unusual event that bullying incidents persist after initial intervention from staff, involvement with parents and use of restorative approach the Headteacher, senior leaders and Governors will contact the LA. Suspensions and even exclusions are possible at this stage. It should be noted that the school's ethos does not reflect these actions and would only be used in a last case scenario.

Procedures

- All reported incidents will be taken seriously and investigated involving all parties. Our school will:-
- First report of bullying - Interview all parties, either separately or together, depending on the needs and feelings of those involved. The pupils involved will be invited to bring a staff member to support them.
- Repeated report of bullying by the same perpetrator – A restorative meeting with all involved parties with the staff member supporting them. Parents/Carers will be informed.
- A third report will culminate in a restorative meeting with Parents/Carers involved.

During these meetings, a decision will be made on the consequences and school sanctions agreed. These will follow the appropriate response to the situation: - solution focused, restorative approach, circle of friends, individual work with the children involved, and referral to outside agencies if appropriate.

Support will be provided for both the victim and the bully and followed up by a member of the leadership team with feedback to the person who reported the situation and parents/carers.

For pupils who repeatedly require support as a result of their actions, the following should occur in order:

1. Reduce the number of corrective actions
2. Have an individual behaviour plan negotiated with parents
3. Involve the SENCO/Inclusion team in developing a further behaviour plan with parents
4. Involve outside agencies in a Pastoral Support Plan
5. Temporary exclusion
6. Fixed term or permanent Exclusion.

Occasionally, it may be necessary to involve the police.

Recording Bullying and Evaluating the Policy

Bullying incidents will be recorded by the member of staff who deals with the incident and this will be reviewed by the Anti-Bullying leaders and recorded on CPOMS . The information stored will be used to ensure individual incidents are followed up. It will also be used to identify trends and inform preventative work in school and development of the policy.

This information will be presented to the governors as part of the Headteacher's report.

The policy will be reviewed and updated every year. All incidents of bullying will be recorded through CPOMS. The DSL (Designated Safeguarding Lead) and Deputy DSL's (Deputy Designated Safeguarding Leads), teaching and support staff will be informed through the pastoral section of their meetings, or via email.

Bullying outside of school premises.

While the schools may not be directly responsible for bullying that occurs off the premises, we recognise that Head teachers have the legal power to make sure pupils behave outside of school. This includes responding to bullying that happens anywhere off the school premises, for example on the journey to and from school, or online via a mobile phone. Bullying could be carried out by pupils from our own school, by pupils from other schools or by people who are not at school at all. Where a pupil or parent reports that bullying is happening outside of the school premises we will:

Talk to pupils and their parents about how to avoid or handle bullying outside of school.

Talk to the Headteacher of another school whose pupils are bullying.

Talk to the police if this is deemed necessary.

Strategies for Preventing Bullying

As part of our on-going commitment to the safety and welfare of our pupils we have developed the following strategies to promote positive behaviour and discourage bullying behaviour.

Proactive strategies

Planned and 'on the hoof' opportunities exist within the whole day curriculum for promoting an ethos of Anti-Bullying

- Anti-Bullying events throughout the year, including Anti-Bullying Week each November
- PSHE/citizenship Pupil voice
- Parent and Carer information sharing through website and Headteacher's Newsletter
- Staff training and development

- Pupil Parliament
- Anti-Bullying Partnership Team
- Achieving the Anti-Bullying Charter Mark, gold award
- School values
- Playground activities led by MDMS team

Reactive strategies

- PSHE / Wellbeing Curriculum – including circle time
- Restorative Justice
- Talk-time box
- Parental involvement with the Family Link Worker
- School values
- Friendship Bench

This aims to ensure all children and staff are aware of the key resources we have available in school and how children can access help and support if they need it. Ball games, lunchtime clubs, resources for the quiet area and trained Peer Mediators from Year 5 and Year 6 are on the playground to reduce bullying during playtimes.

Staff are trained in the restorative approach. Child Exploitation and Online Protection (CEOP) training has been undertaken by our Computing Lead, Miss Mitchell. Our Learning Mentor supports children who have been bullied or who bully, using the restorative approach.
